Thinks U.S. Pilots May Help Prevent Shooting

Veteran Captain Feels Egyptians Prefer Americans

Pittsburgh, Sept. 22 (AP)—"I think it's smart for Americans to go. Maybe they can keep the shooting from starting."

That's the way Capt. Walter A. Equils, 45, a veteran U. S. shipping captain and pilot, explains his taking a job with the Egyptian government as a Suez Canal pilot.

Capt. Equils, of nearby New Kensington, Pa., said he was notified by the State Department yesterday that his application for a passport to Egypt had been approved.

Seven Approved

The State Department said it approved passports for seven Americans to go to Egypt and take jobs as Suez Canal pilots. No names were given.

Capt. Equils said he applied to the Egyptian consulate some time ago and was told last week he would be hired and his expenses paid.

"The Egyptians want Americans there as pilots in the Suez Canal," Equils said. "They don't want Russians."

Capt. Equils said he first went to sea when he was 15 and worked his way up from mess-boy to deckhand. He graduated from the Bay State Navigation School in Massachusetts and was licensed as a master in 1942.

Will Leave Monday

The captain said he plans to leave from New York by plane Monday for Cairo.

"I feel I am an American citizen and have the right to go anywhere any other American citizen goes," Equils said when told the State Department would warn all the pilots of uncertain employment and risk in the Suez Canal area. He added: "My job is my problem and not the State Department's. To prevent Americans from taking these Suez jobs would be inviting the Russians to go there."

He served as skipper of cargo and troop-carrying vessels during World War II, said he is familiar with the Mediterranean and the canal and has made "20 or more trips" through the waterway.

Equils said he was awarded (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Expect Chambers Heat on Monday

The Chambers School is expected to have its permanent heating system in operation Monday, it was announced today by Reginald D. Russell, supervising principal.

Friday morning, pupils were dismissed because the cold snap that chilled the Hudson valley was too much for the temporary heating arrangement in the new building on 9-W in the Town of Ulster.

Mr. Russell said a heating contractor and electricians will work all weekend to complete the permanent system. He added that it was necessary to start class Friday before sending pupils back home in order not to interfere with receiving maximum state aid for the school.

Elementary Teachers Praised

Quality of Work Seen In Standardized Tests

Kingston elementary school teachers received praise this week from principals and school officials for the quality of their teaching last year as reflected in standardized tests.

The tests, administered to grades three through six last spring, indicated gains in all grades substantially better than normally expected of average children, according to a report at a meeting of the Elementary Cabinet of Kingston schools.

Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools, and M. Clifford Miller, high school principal, said a "good teaching job" had been performed by the Kingston teachers and asked that each principal relay the school's praises to their teachers.

The statistical report, presented to the Elementary Cabinet by Mrs. Marian Gregory, elementary supervisor, who is in charge of elementary testing, indicated that grade three stood high in language skills. Grade four recorded the greatest gain—1.6 years in work study skills and 1.5 years in language skills. Grade five stood high in work study (1.5 years) and language skills (1.5 years). Grade six attained a remarkable gain of 1.8 years in reading and closed the year with students above grade in the subject which has meant so much controversy across the country.

Order Bans NAACP Texas Operations

Austin, Tex., Sept. 22 (AP)—The state attorney general asked and got yesterday a court order aimed at putting the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People out of business in Texas.

Dist. Judge Otis T. Dunagan of Smith county ordered the NAACP to stop all operations in Texas, to file no more school integration suits, and to collect no more money until a hearing Sept. 28 in Tyler, Tex.

"We allege that the NAACP has exceeded the bounds of propriety and law and have asked that they not be allowed to operate in this state," Atty. Gen-

John Ben Shepperd said in a statement.

"I know many Texans will be stunned by the import of our evidence, I urge a calm and patient attitude," he said.

Gov. Allan Shivers, who called out the Texas Rangers to stop recent racial disturbances at Mansfield High School, had no comment.

Dr. H. Boyd Hall, state NAACP president, said the attorney general's move showed that Negroes in Texas were entering an era of persecution. Hall said he had anticipated the ban.

W. J. Durham, attorney for the Texas State Conference of Branches (NAACP), said that group "is an association of individuals in Texas and not a corporation. The national association has no authority to keep it alive or break it up."

No Previous Notice

The temporary restraining order was issued without previous notice to the defendants, which included all state officials of the NAACP and 122 branches in the state.

The surprise court action came after investigators from the attorney general's office spent several days looking over NAACP records throughout Texas and at national headquarters in New York.

The investigators apparently paid particular attention to financial records. One of the charges was that the NAACP "is in truth and in fact a profit-making organization, contrary to its avowed purposes and representation."

The state's petition said that "for over 100 years the white and colored races in said state have lived together peacefully and in harmony without strife or litigation and that, were it not for the activities of the defendants, (the NAACP) they would now and in the future continue to do so. X X X"

The suit also pointed out that the state's action did not attempt to deny the rights of "negroes or others to belong to any organization fully complying with the constitution and law of the state of Texas."

Judge Dunagan's order enjoined the defendants "from further conducting their business within the state of Texas, from organizing other chapters or organizations of any kind in connection with their operations in the state of Texas; from soliciting money for the purpose of instigating lawsuits and hiring lawyers therefor, and from soliciting and requesting individuals to file lawsuits; and from soliciting or collecting fees or taxes of any kind."

Restrains Action

The order also restrained "all defendants from filing with the secretary of state any applications for a permit to do business in Texas."

"The defendants are seeking to register students in various schools of this state by a method contrary to the laws of this state and that such efforts tend to incite racial prejudice, picketing, riots and other unlawful acts and which are contrary to public peace and quietude," the order said.

Lt. Murphy New Police Traffic Boss

The Board of Police Commissioners yesterday appointed Lt. Robert F. Murphy, of 22 Clinton avenue, to take charge of all traffic matters.

The appointment, which does not involve a change in rank, is effective immediately.

Mayor Frederick H. Stang, president of the board, said the appointment was made to relieve police headquarters of routine traffic problems which it now handles.

Lt. Murphy will assign officers to traffic duty, handle traffic plans for parades, etc. and other routine traffic matters which arise.

20 Years on Force

He has been a member of the department for 20 years, having been appointed March 1, 1936.

Lt. Murphy served with the Eighth Air Force in the European theatre of operations during World War 2.

He served with Air Force from 1942 to 1945, rejoining the department after his honorable discharge.

He was appointed an acting sergeant in the department May 1, 1946, a sergeant Nov. 1, 1946, and a lieutenant Feb. 17, 1955.

While in the service, Lt. Murphy served as an engineer and top turret gunner on the Eighth Air Force B-17 Flying Fortress "Lizzy Belle." He received the Distinguished Flying Cross for "extraordinary achievement" while serving as an engineer on many high altitude heavy bombardment attacks over Germany and German-occupied Europe.

38 Hurt In August

Police Chief Raymond Van Buren reported 38 persons injured in 17 traffic mishaps and 153 arrests made during August.

In the accidents 32 persons were injured in 12 mishaps involving two or more vehicles, one mishap involved bicycles, five persons were injured when vehicles ran off roadways.

Of the arrests 19 were for violation of the city traffic code, 41 were for violation of the vehicle code.

Highland Votes On School Sites

The location of a site for the future school expansion of the Highland School District will be decided by a referendum of the eligible voters today.

The voting will be at the school during the hours of 1 and 9 p. m.

The board of education has given the voters a choice of four sites on the ballot or the voters may vote "no" on all four sites.

The sites chosen by the Citizens' Committee and approved by the State Education Department and the local school board are described as the Sandy and Monti sites on Vineyard avenue; the DiStasi property on Grand street and the Wilklow parcel at Route 9-W and Chapel Hill road.

If the voters make a choice today, the property will be purchased and converted into a school athletic field for immediate use. The site will eventually be used for the construction of a new school.

DST Continues Through Oct. 27

The change from Daylight Saving Time to Eastern Standard Time will not take place until Oct. 28, the last Sunday in the month.

It is the second consecutive year in which Daylight Saving Time has been extended in compliance with a law passed by the state legislature.

Previously, Eastern Standard Time began on the last Sunday in September.

YWCA Committee Plans Political Panel for Public

Two Ulster county women prominent in the field of politics will participate in a panel discussion here Tuesday, Oct. 2.

Discussing party platforms will be Mrs. Donald Allen of New Paltz, a member of the Republican State Committee, and Miss Hilda Smith of West Park, who served in several government agencies during the administration of Democratic President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Program at GW School

Announcement of their appearance was made today by the public affairs committee of the YWCA, which is sponsoring the panel at George Washington School, starting at 8:30 p. m.

Two other members of the panel, and a moderator, will be announced later.

The committee said the two were chosen because of their prominent political and civic activities.

Democrats to Hold Region Conference, Picnic Sunday

A regional political conference is scheduled here Sunday night, following the picnic in the afternoon of the Ulster County Democratic Women's Club.

This was announced today by Attorney Thomas J. Plunket, chairman of the Ulster County Democratic Committee, who said Michael H. Prendergast, state party chairman, will address the gathering at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

More than 400 invitations have been sent for the conference, which is to start at 8:30 p. m., he advised.

In attendance will be candidates for Congress, the State Legislature, party officials and party workers.

The picnic announcement said that State Senator Frank J. Pino, Brooklyn attorney, will be the guest speaker at Spindler's resort on the Kingston-Rosendale road. Starting time of the picnic is 2 p. m.

Senator Pino is a veteran of the state legislature, having spent 12 years in Albany, most of the time in the Assembly. In that branch he served on committees for Civil Service, codes and ways and means.

This year he was appointed by Governor Averell Harriman to fill out the unexpired term of Louis L. Friedman, representing the 15th Senatorial District, which includes his old 16th Assembly District and the 19th.

The regional conference Sunday night will bring in Democratic representatives from 11 counties along the Hudson river, extending from Albany to New York city, including the Westchester area, Chairman Plunket said.

Concentrated Vote Drive

It will continue next week covering 44 more counties, he told the press, quoting State Chairman Prendergast as saying:

"We will launch the most concentrated and concerted drive for Democratic votes which has even been undertaken in upstate New York."

After the local meeting, the fessed, however, to be able to translate into vote results the demonstrations given the President and Mrs. Eisenhower yesterday by 100,000 persons in Des Moines.

Break Through Lines

Teen-agers and younger school students broke police lines and stormed their motor caravan goodnaturedly as it crawled through the city's business district on the way to the airport.

Back in Washington for the weekend, Eisenhower leaves Tuesday for a nationally broadcast and televised speech that night on farm issues at Bradley University in Peoria, Ill. This will be the second of a series of radio-TV appearances which are expected to be the backbone of his campaign for re-election.

The rousing reception Eisenhower got in a 160-mile circuit of central Iowa might cause Republican strategists to urge more personal appearances by the President in politically critical areas of the country.

Reaction Favorable

The general reaction to Eisenhower's visit to Iowa was that there has been no lessening of the President's personal popularity in that key state despite reports of a widespread farm revolt.

Around 75,000 farm men, women and children listened attentively but without much applause as Eisenhower delivered an informal and—as he put it, a nonpolitical—speech at the National Field Days and plowing matches near Newton.

Eisenhower said he was going to lay down a detailed farm program in his Peoria speech. His audience broke into cheers when he said:

"Now many of you here will not agree with me. Some of you, frankly, will probably think I am a little bit crazy. But I am sure that none of you will think that I am not honest."

Nasser, Arab Allies Are Conferring

Cairo, Sept. 22 (AP)—President Nasser flew to Saudi Arabia today to confer with his two most powerful Arab allies, Saudi Arabia's King Saud and Syria's President Shukri Kuwatri.

The Suez crisis headed the agenda of the Arabian Big Three summit meeting. There was speculation in London and western diplomatic circles here the other Arab leaders might be putting pressure on Nasser to find a solution to his dispute with the west.

Border tension between Israel and the neighboring Arab states may be discussed also.

First Trip Since Crisis

It was Nasser's first trip outside Egypt since the crisis erupted from his nationalization of the old Suez Canal Co. July 26. He postponed a scheduled goodwill trip to Russia because of the crisis.

The Arab meeting followed by a day the end of the second London Suez conference, which set up a watered-down Suez Canal (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Mauhs Would Double Acreage

Deplores Conditions Of N. Y. Watersheds

Schenectady, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—Conservation Commissioner Sharon J. Mauhs says New York watersheds are denuded, burned, eroded and polluted.

Mauhs told a testimonial dinner in his honor last night that the state should enlarge and give more protection to its holdings in the Adirondack and Catskill forest preserves.

Gov. Harriman was among the dinner guests.

Mauhs called for doubling the acreage of state-owned timberland, watersheds and wilderness forests. He said the state had a half-million acres under "intensive management."

Mauhs, a Cobleskill lawyer, dairy farmer and Democratic leader, succeeded Louis A. Wehle as conservation commissioner last month.

Wehle resigned in a controversy over a pheasant-raising program.

Union Foresees Long Strike at Swift's Plants

Chicago, Sept. 22 (AP)—The strike against Swift & Co. rolled on today and union officials said they expect it to be a prolonged one unless the packing firm capitulates. About 25,000 members of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen and the United Packinghouse Workers, two unions involved, struck Thursday in a wage and union shop dispute. Workers in 38 Swift plants in 37 cities left their jobs.

Will Meet Monday
Federal mediators have set up a meeting for Monday in an effort to settle the strike but union leaders indicated they didn't think the session would be fruitful.

Patrick Gorman, secretary of the Amalgamated organization, said it is "possible" that union representatives may not attend the meeting. But later, Ralph Helstein, president of the UPW, said "union representatives will attend."

Only one picket was arrested near the Swift plant in Chicago yesterday, compared with 17 arrests Thursday when pickets tied up traffic at the entrance to the Union Stockyards. About 4,000 are on strike in Swift's two Chicago plants.

Sept. 30 Final Date to Obtain License Renewals

September 30 is the deadline for renewal of several thousand operator's licenses in Ulster county.

As of August 1 there were approximately 7,500 such licenses requiring renewal, according to Deputy County Clerk Ralph Post.

The local office of the Motor Vehicle Bureau, 32 Main street, is open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily, except Saturday. Licenses to be issued in this renewal period will be valid through Sept. 30, 1959. Renewal fee is $3.

Mistaken Identity

Albuquerque, N. M. (AP)—An Albuquerque motorist saw a new hat on the sidewalk. He investigated and spotted a pair of legs sticking out from under the lower end of a ramp up to an overpass. He hustled to the police station and reported finding a "Dead Man." Police found three "Dead Men" in a row—dead drunk.

Nicaragua Head Shot

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP)—The White House said today it had been notified that President Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua had been shot four times.

President Eisenhower was informed of the shooting by U. S. Ambassador Thomas Whelan at Managua, capital of Nicaragua.

No details were available immediately on the shooting, the White House said.

Eisenhower ordered a medical team of U. S. Army and civilian personnel from the Panama Canal Zone to fly to Managua toward the wounded president.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the medical team, already in the air, includes abdominal and bone surgeons, X-ray and transfusion experts and equipment.

Ambassador Whelan requested the medical team.

hield and traffic law, 49 for public intoxication, seven for third degree assault, four for petit larceny, one each for third degree burglary, common gambler, driving while intoxicated, keeping a betting and gambling establishment, malicious mischief and violation of parole.

Nineteen persons were arrested for disorderly conduct, two for disorderly person, three for juvenile delinquency, and two for being absent without leave from the armed forces.

Twenty-three of those arrested received jail sentences, 46 paid fines, 43 were given suspended sentences, five discharged, two cases were withdrawn, eight forfeited bail, one was held for the grand jury, seven cases were turned over to outside officers and 15 cases are pending.

As the U. S. Merchant Marine was reduced and master's berth became harder to find he returned to piloting in the Delaware river between Philadelphia and the Atlantic ocean.

"I haven't been to sea for a year," Equils said. "There must be 4,000 licensed masters and mates unemployed." He recently took a course in civil engineering and has been doing some work of that type.

Excelsior Bell Is

tion, it was reported at the time it was removed, is probably one of the oldest of its type in use. If the bell system is found satisfactory the others will be installed at Cordts, Union and Twaalfskill engine houses and Wiltwyck and Cornell stations, where they had sounded alarms for many years.

It was decided to remove the bells some time ago because of the conditions of some of the towers and because it was then indicated that worn out parts for the older-type alarm system could no longer be obtained.

To Please Volunteers

After they were removed, it was found that sentiment prevailed, especially among volunteer firemen, for continued use of the bells in some way locally. Chief Brett announced last spring he had determined that the bell-alarm system could still be used if it was found more generally satisfactory than the air-horn system, and he decided to make the test.

Seek Women's Advice

Governors Island, N. Y., Sept. 22—The army has called on the women—wives of officers and noncommissioned officers—for their recommendations and advice on certain construction features of the new modular-type housing to be constructed at nine First Army installations in New England, New York and New Jersey. Housing units numbering 1,698 have been authorized for the nine posts under the Capehart Act. The homes costing $16,500 each will be built at no expense to the government utilizing FHA-insured mortgages which will be retired by monies ordinarily paid to military personnel as quarters allowances. Upon completion the housing units will be operated and maintained by the army.

Pilot Risks Life

Norwalk, Conn., Sept. 22 (AP)—A 24-year-old army air force jet pilot risked his life in Long Island Sound yesterday rather than endanger the lives of Norwalk residents. The pilot, 1st Lt. John F. Wood abandoned his Stieff F86 jet about a mile off Shickfield Field here and dropped by parachute into the sound. "It took a lot of guts," said Maj. John F. Coughlin, public information chief at Mitchell Field, N. Y., where Wood was taken after his rescue.

Aarhus, Denmark, Sept. 22 (AP)—Ivan Vince, a 26-year-old member of a Communist Czech dance company performing here, walked into the police station today and asked for political asylum. The 55-member "Lucini" dance troupe earlier had reported Vince was missing. Police quoted Vince as saying: "Now that I have seen the free life outside the Iron Curtain, I don't want to go back to my country."

Bridges Pummelled Probe Attack On Labor Leader

Sausalito, Calif., Sept. 22 (AP)—A three-pronged investigation is underway into a bloody attack on labor leader Harry Bridges at a plush waterfront restaurant.

Two Southern California seamen were arrested a few hours after the attack early yesterday and arraigned on charges they conspired with persons unknown to beat up the stormy labor union chief.

The two were identified as Fred Reppine, 35, and Donald R. Hansen, both of Wilmington, Calif., and both members of the Sailors Union of the Pacific—a bitter rival of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union of which Bridges is president.

"I am determined to find out whether these men were paid to beat up Bridges," said Police Chief Lou Montanos.

Investigations also were started by Marin County Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich and by Bridges' union.

May Involve Oothers

"I cannot quote the source," Weissich said, "but I have reason to believe there are other conspirators in this case. If true, the repercussions could be serious."

Bridges was jumped in the men's room of the Valhalla Restaurant, a night spot operated by Sally Stanford, a figure long associated with night life across the bay in San Francisco.

The ILWU president was kicked and pummelled until he bled from the forehead and face. He described the injuries as minor.

Police refused to say whether the attack stemmed from inter-union rivalry.

GOP Hopes . . .

have the "earned approval" of the farmers, Eisenhower made no other direct political pitch for votes.

This seemed a calculated maneuver to offer a Republican contrast to the full-blown political campaign speech his opponent, Adlai E. Stevenson, makes before a national field days audience today.

Differ on Strategy

Not all Republicans agreed with the strategy. Some said privately that many farmers who came to listen to the President were disappointed by the generalities in which Eisenhower spoke.

These GOP members, who didn't want to be quoted by name, said that they will be satisfied if Eisenhower makes specific proposals in the Peoria speech.

Gov. Leo Hoegh and Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper, who traveled the circuit that led from Des Moines to Boone, back to Ames, to the Newton field days and through Des Moines, said the President's visit had given "great stimulus" to the Republican cause.

Eisenhower carried Iowa by about 350,000 votes in 1952. However, the state gave Democrat Harry S. Truman a 28,000 margin in 1954 when reputed dissatisfaction among the farmers was somewhat akin to that of today.

Nasser, Arab

Users Assn. (SCUA): Nasser denounced the western Big Three's original plan for a users association to run its own shipping through the canal. Some western diplomats thought he might agree to work with the less powerful agency agreed to by the majority of the 18-nation conference. There was no immediate official Egyptian reaction to the London development.

President Kuwatly of Syria flew from Damascus to the conference at Riyadh, King Saud's capital.

Second in Six Months

It is the second Arab summit meeting in six months. Informal Egyptian sources interpreted Nasser's decision to leave the country at this time as an indication of his confidence of a continued lull in Suez developments here.

The Egyptian strongman was accompanied by his close political adviser, wing commander Ali Sabry, and Anwar El Sadat, secretary general of the Islamic congress.

Push for Solution

The speculation that Nasser's Arab neighbors might be pushing for a Suez solution was based on the possibility that Europe might replace part of its supply of Middle Eastern oil with American petroleum if its Middle East supply route through the canal were cut or reduced. Virtually all Saudi Arabia's income is from oil.

Nasser's departure wound up a week of intensive consultation in Cairo with V. K. Krishna Menon, India's trouble shooting diplomat. Menon is going on to London to talk with British leaders in an attempt to smooth the Suez crisis.

ordinance as a general business area. He brought out that a Grand Union super market is presently under construction on an adjacent site.

The only family residences in this area are the homes of Dr. Lester A. Sonking, whose offices are located in his home and the parsonage of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Atoneament directly across the street.

The present Saugerties Savings Bank building is located on Main street near the intersection with Market street.

Jersey Man Dies After Thruway Crash in Orange

Norman Kessler, 35, of Newark, N. J., died at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, about 5:35 p. m. Friday following a one-car accident on the Thruway in Orange county several hours earlier.

Mr. Kessler, an employee of Plastic Glass Corp., Newark, reportedly suffered a serious concussion and possible internal injuries and lost a lot of blood, according to Thruway police.

He was northbound in a 1955 station wagon in the town of Woodbury when the left front tire apparently blew out, causing the vehicle to turn over about four times, troopers said.

Mr. Kessler was thrown about 40 feet from the station wagon which ripped up 150 feet of the mall and ended up in the south-bound lane. The station wagon was totally demolished.

France Supports

interests or the objectives" of international operation of the canal.

Action Not Specified

There was no indication of what specific actions the French had in mind to attain these points.

Meanwhile, President Nasser flew from Cairo to Riyadh, capital of Saudi Arabia, for a three-power Arabian Summit conference with President Shukri Kuwatly of Syria and King Saud of Saudi Arabia.

There was speculation in the Egyptian capital that Nasser's Arab neighbors, fearing a shutdown of the canal or its diminished importance would cut their own oil revenues from the West, were putting pressure on him to come to an agreement.

Some informants in Cairo have been hinting that SCUA came close to meeting Nasser's ideas, and there was much curiosity about the forthcoming visit to London of India's roving ambassador, V. K. Krishna Menon. Menon, who embodies Indian hopes of bridging the gulf between Egypt and the West, has wound up an intensive week of soft-shoe diplomatic bargaining with Nasser in Cairo.

Hope for All

The 18 nations, counting Britain, invited here to Oct. 1, to discuss control 90 to 95 per cent of the shipping through the canal. The organizers hoped that all 18 nations eventually would join.

The new conference will deal mainly with administration of the new agency. Headquarters may be selected, and a governing board chosen.

The success of SCUA may depend upon whether it attains a united front and thus a strong bargaining position with Egypt. France, Britain and the United States sponsored the original association idea.

Secretary of State Dulles, author of the association plan, flew home today to report to President Eisenhower. Before leaving he told reporters here:

Says Results Solid
"It was a good conference. It fulfilled good work and there was a cooperative spirit. I think the results are solid as we moved forward to the next stage. I am very satisfied with the outcome."

Diplomats here saw a good chance that Egypt's President Nasser might accept SCUA, as finally constituted. He rejected the original Users' Association scheme as tantamount to a declaration of war. Egypt maintains it can operate the canal alone and that any attempt by other nations to step in would infringe on its sovereignty.

Immediate Tasks

SCUA's governing body will be composed of one delegate from each country joining it. It is to meet in London Oct. 1. These are its immediate tasks:

To prepare a joint case for international control of the canal and by mid-October present it to the UN security council with a request for endorsement.

To seek Egypt's cooperation for the "safe, orderly, efficient and economical transit" of the ships of its members through the canal.

To investigate alternative shipping routes in case the Suez should ever be closed to its shipping.

Presumably SCUA will propose to Nasser that it provide pilots and handle other arrangements for taking its members' ships through the canal pending a final agreement with Nasser over future operation of the waterway. Dulles indicated during this week's conference, however, that Egypt insisted on using its own pilots.

Members could pay canal tolls either to the association or to Egypt, as the United States and West Germany now are doing under protest.

Last week, Prime Ministers Eden of Britain and Guy Mollet of France said the association should collect tolls from member nations whose ships pass through the canal and share the income with Egypt as "landlord" of the canal.

They said it should employ pilots and undertake responsibility for coordinating traffic through the canal, with Egypt's cooperation.

Eden told the House of Commons that if Egypt interfered or refused "the essential minimum of cooperation" Britain would be free to take such other steps as it deemed necessary.

Reds to Try 58 Soon for Poznan Riot

Vienna, Austria, Sept. 22 (AP)—Warsaw radio said today trials of 58 "criminal elements" involved in the Poznan riots will start at the end of this month.

The broadcast quoted Polish Attorney General Marian Rybicki as saying 154 of the 323 persons arrested in the June 28 "bread-and-freedom" strikes and the accompanying bloody disorders were still in custody. He said the 58 had been charged with major crimes ranging from murder to attacks on military stores.

It said "those held were" "known rowdies, hooligans, former convicts and criminals." The 58 will be tried before the Poznan high court and district court, it added.

This was the first official announcement of the trials. The Poznan newspaper Gazeta Poznanska said recently that four workers who took part in the uprising had been sentenced Aug. 23 to prison terms on charges of looting or disposing of stolen goods.

Rybicki said the remaining 96 persons still in custody will be tried later on lesser charges.

Plane to Check Possible Storm

Miami, Fla., Sept. 22 (AP)—A navy hurricane hunter plane planned to wing to a weather disturbance near Central America today to check it for possible development into a tropical storm.

The Weather Bureau also asked for special ship reports from the southwest gulf.

The low pressure area drifted northward out of the Pacific and was found yesterday as it crossed the Yucatan peninsula, which received heavy rains.

Weathermen said it might develop a closed wind circulation when it gets over the warm Gulf of Mexico water.

"Considering the time of year, we will watch it closely," forecasters Arnold Sugg said.

The plane was expected to reach the area at mid-morning and relay its report to hurricane forecasters in New Orleans in time for an 11 a. m. advisory if one should be needed.

Autumn Foliage Signals Fall Vacation Season

Albany—Foliage is donning its autumnal dress in upstate New York signaling the beginning of the fall vacation season.

State Commerce Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson announced reduced rates at resorts, advising fall vacationists that "this is one of the best times for a New York State vacation."

Rates Lower

In the Catskills, rates are 10 to 25 percent lower, according to Mr. Dickinson. In Sullivan county, 12 of the largest hotels will stay open until late fall. Here, as well as in Ulster and Greene counties, many resort accommodations are available the year round. Fall colors in this area usually reach their peak of brilliance during the second week of October.

Leaves are already turning and will be at their height of color the first week of October. The foliage change moving southward will reach the Hudson-Taconic and Long Island areas about the middle of October. North of New York City, the Taconic Parkway, the Thru-way, Highways 9 and 9W, Storm King Highway and Bear Mountain State Park provide scenic drives to picturesque spots and elevations overlooking the Hudson River.

Some of the best places to view fall foliage on Long Island are along the north shore, via the Northern State Parkway to Highway 25A to Riverhead, then to the south shore through the Hamptons to Montauk.

Scenic drives which offer noteworthy views of autumn's colorful pageant are listed in a free folder, "The Autumn Colorama in New York State," published by the State Department of Commerce, 112 State street, Albany 7.

Many experts have a blind spot for the danger shown in today's hand. They sit tight and wait for the ax to fall instead of acting on the warning.

It was perfectly reasonable for North and South to bid up to seven hearts. East's double was surely based on the ability to ruff the first trick in some suit. It was just up to West to guess the right suit.

West had no trouble, of course, in picking the right suit. East ruffed the first diamond, and the slam was defeated.

Both North and South should have heeded the warning of the double. If they passed, they would do down. The only hope was to bid seven no-trump. South should have bid it, and, after South's pass, North should have bid it.

The slam in no-trump would have depended only on a diamond finesse. That would become an established finesse if declarer simply took one high diamond to make sure that East was really void. There would be no further trouble.

Perhaps East should pass instead of doubling seven hearts. West may, after all, lead a diamond even if East fails to double. This is a delicate problem, depending on who the various players are and how much they trust a double in this situation. It pays to double in most games, because few players have nerve to run to seven no-trump.

Benson Opposes Food Stamp Plan

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture and his advisory commission have come out against a food stamp plan, endorsed by the Democrats.

Benson told newsmen yesterday the 18-member national advisory group regarded the plan as mainly a relief measure and doubted its effectiveness in cutting into huge government-held farm surplus stocks.

The agriculture secretary, aligning himself with the group's recommendations, said the commission was of the opinion such a plan should not be inaugurated while employment is high, as it is now.

Losses Are Noted

Earlier this week, the agriculture department was disclosed to have informed Congress a food stamp plan would cost about 1½ billion dollars. But the department's report carried no recommendation for or against the scheme.

Under the food stamp plan, needy persons would use stamps they got from relief agencies to obtain foodstuffs from regular grocery stores. The grocers then would turn in the stamps to the government, and get paid.

The Eisenhower administration has been distributing some foods directly to persons in need, as part of its program for disposing of farm surpluses.

Conference Set On Psychiatric Child Treatment

Most Rev. Edward V. Dargin, DD, auxiliary bishop and vicar general of the Archdiocese of New York, will be a guest speaker at the second annual conference on the psychiatric treatment of children at the Astor Home, Rhinebeck, on Monday, Oct. 1, starting at 10 a. m. Prominent psychiatrists and child welfare workers will participate in the one-day conference sponsored by New York Catholic Charities in conjunction with the staff of the Astor Home, residential treatment center for emotionally ill children.

Handles Test Projects

The Astor Home is one of three institutions in New York state selected by the New York State Mental Hygiene Commission as pilot projects to amass knowledge and develop techniques in the residential treatment in child psychiatric care. State funds especially appropriated for this purpose have been allotted to assist in this work.

Dr. Donald A. Bloch, psychiatric consultant for the New York State Interdepartmental Health Resources Board will be chairman of the morning session. At this session the Rev. Swithun Bowers, OMI, director of the University of Ottawa School of Social Welfare, Ottawa, Canada, will discuss "The Contribution of the Social Worker to the Treatment of the Emotionally Disturbed Child."

Bishop Dargin will be the speaker at a luncheon in Beekman Arms Hotel, Rhinebeck, at 12:30 p. m., at which the Rev. Michael F. Dwyer, director of the department of child care of New York Catholic Charities, will act as chairman.

JOSEPH H. REID

Joseph H. Reid, executive director of the Child Welfare

League of America and William S. Langford, MD, director of the pediatric-psychiatric clinic, Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center, will be the speakers at the afternoon session. The subjects they will discuss will be "Residential Treatment: Its Place in the Total Child Welfare Program," and "Problems in the Selection of Patients for Residential Treatment and in Methods of Treatment," respectively. The Astor Home is conducted by the Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul under the direction of Sister Serena. Joseph J. Reidy, MD, is medical director. The child Welfare League of America is the national federation of public and private child care agencies. Formed in 1920, it sets standards and improves methods for child care groups. KINGSTON, NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER 22, 1956

THE YOUTH ACT

County Judge Louis G. Bruhn and District Attorney Howard C. St. John have spoken out against the Youth Court Act, which is effective February 1, 1957. They join with other county judges and district attorneys throughout the state along with the New York State Society of Newspaper Editors and some Boards of Supervisors in protesting against the Act.

The so-called Youth Court Act would set up a special Youth Courts within County Courts to provide special treatment for first offenders aged 16 through 20. It also would prevent newspapers from gaining proper access to reports on arrests and punishment of youths accused of crime.

We believe that the secrecy clause in the Act, which denies official records to the public, will not always serve the best interests of the youngster, his family or society.

Secrecy could encourage depredations because the general public would be in ignorance of the crimes. On the other hand, publicity could help reduce the crime rate by creating an awareness on the part of the public to the crime situation.

The arrest of young people seldom remains a secret anyway. The story is passed from one to another and often distorted as it goes the rounds. Printing the facts serves to lessen the rumors and the sensationalism that goes with the rumors.

Secrecy, we also believe, keeps parents from knowing the very few bad ones in a community whose bad habits may endanger their children.

The Act should be stricken from the books.

REGISTRATION DAYS

Days of registration in the City of Kingston, where personal registration is necessary will be held October 5 and 6 and on October 12 and 13. The first three days the polls will be open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. and on the final day from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m.

In the county districts where personal registration is not necessary, registration dates are October 6 from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. and October 13 from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m. While it is not necessary to personally register in the county districts, it is advisable to check the registry lists at your polling place and make sure your name is on the roll and you are eligible to vote on election day. On registration days in the county districts it is also possible to have entered on the register roll the names of new voters, or names which may have been left off the roll through error.

Application for soldier ballots may be made at the Ulster County Board of Elections office until November 3. Applications for soldier ballots may be made directly to Albany until October 25. After that date a personal appearance at the Board of Elections office is necessary by the applicant who has until November 3 to apply.

PLANNING DOES IT

The 13th Duke of Bedford, in England, is up to his ears in the problem of how to pay some 14 million dollars in death duties—what we in this country call estate taxes. He has five years to do it in. He inherited this problem, along with a tremendous estate, when his father died in 1953.

The duke's money troubles are more formidable than any most of us will ever have to contend with. The fact is, nevertheless, that a man in this country who expects to leave an estate can do much to save his heirs troubles of this kind, if not of this magnitude.

Commerce Clearing House, which issues expert reports on tax and business law, recently gave some sound advice on this subject. Estate planning, it said, is the answer, since one no longer asks "How much shall I leave?" but rather "How much will be left?" Even a man without a large estate can forestall anxiety and trouble for his heirs by a little judicious planning at the right time.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
PART TIME ONLY

The whole purpose of a presidential campaign is to have a public debate on public issues, but calling the President, a part-time president and saying that he plays the Army game of passing the buck, is not a debate on any great public issue.

All presidents work part time. A competent manager knows how to divide the work, supervise the staff, and see that things get done without doing everything himself. Woodrow Wilson, when he conducted a war, associated to himself quite a number of competent and wise men who took some of the load off his shoulders. Among them were Colonel Edward House, Herbert Hoover, and Bernard Baruch. Franklin D. Roosevelt was so trusting of Harry Hopkins that he moved him into the White House where Hopkins lived for a period. And there was Robert Sherwood and Sam Rosenman and Ben Cohen and at one time, Tommy Corcoran.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, because of the crippling effect of his polio, could not engage in much physical activity but he had a way of bringing together arguing personalities of an evening and also those who were in the lower forms of art, such as motion picture personalities, particularly comedians. Nobody ever kept a time check on Roosevelt; apparently a time check is being kept on Dwight D. Eisenhower.

If playing golf is a form of wickedness on the part of a president, it, at any rate, is designed to keep him physically fit. Theodore Roosevelt, who believed in the strenuous life, played tennis rather than golf, and the country was much amused by what was called his "tennis cabinet." William Howard Taft was a golfer, but it did him no good because he remained overweight. Nevertheless, he lived to an old age and his mind was always keen and after leaving the presidency, he was Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

I always admired President Taft for being overweight, which proved that he knew good food and had happy thoughts. At any rate, he was a great reader and his family, children and grandchildren, were scholarly and some have a very keen sense of humor, particularly his grandson who is the American Ambassador to Ireland. I do not know whether Harry Truman punched the time clock when he was President. He seems to have stood the ordeal well and has survived to give everybody hell. Harry Truman has an advantage over Ike Eisenhower in his sharp sense of humor, of raw, raucous humor, the kind that one used to find in the comic books before they went in for horrors. Also he and his biographers make claim that he is a great student of history of which there has been very little evidence in his writings or his speeches.

The Democrats are making a tactical blunder, it would seem to me, in trying to attack Eisenhower's stature. That will do them very little good because should this become a fly-swattering campaign, there is much that can be said on the other side that would not make pleasant listening. The only perfect politician I ever knew was Robert A. Taft and he died young. And Taft would never speak ill of any man. I recall that when Eisenhower was beating him at the Chicago Convention and a loud speaker shrieked beneath Taft's window, "Thou Shalt Not Steal," he said to me that he was sure Eisenhower knew nothing of this vulgarity. He liked to think well of all men and he even spoke favorably to me of Wayne Morse and Joe McCarthy, both of whom were giving him a bad time.

The point is that there is not too much time and the country would like to hear the pros and cons of important issues, such as the inflation, continued high taxes, the enormous national debt, the foreign policy, what we plan to do about Red China, etc., etc. It will take many speeches on both sides to cover all these issues and if all we are to listen to is claptrap about part-time presidents, most of us will turn off the television as some of us do when the female announcers try to sell us cosmetics. And maybe, if there is no debate and no inspiration, plenty of people will stay home on Election Day. That is what happened in Maine.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
SECONDARY PREVENTION OF CHRONIC DISEASES

Yesterday we were discussing how many chronic diseases may be prevented primarily, that is by preventing them from occurring in the first place. Secondary prevention—finding the disease early and preventing it from progressing—may be an even more practical approach for most physicians. Diabetes may serve as a good example.

Here is a disease which meant death when it occurred in severe form a generation ago. Nowadays, the patient with diabetes, no matter how severe, when it is discovered early and controlled adequately by insulin and diet, possesses an almost normal life expectancy. The problem is to find the cases early and assure continuous, good medical supervision.

Means for the detection of diabetes are being constantly refined but there appears to be a lag in their general use. It is estimated that about a million Americans have diabetes and know it; another million have the disease but do not know it because it has never been detected. Here is a marvelous opportunity for preventive medicine—find the million undiscovered cases of diabetes and by proper care prevent the vast amount of blindness, infection and other disability and premature death that will otherwise occur.

One method of accomplishing secondary prevention on a sizable scale is through the use of a battery of screening tests, including chest X-ray, blood tests for diabetes and anemia, height and weight determination, cell tests for cancer, vision tests, to large numbers of apparently well individuals. All persons with test results suggestive of some abnormality are referred to their own physicians for necessary diagnosis and follow-up care. From past experience, at least half the apparently well persons screened by multiple tests will be advised to consult their physician for a particular reason as well as for general health maintenance care. Most people respond favorably to this appeal whereas they do not to general advice to "see your physician for a health check-up."

These multiple test projects have been conducted successfully by health departments, voluntary health agencies, county medical societies, industrial medical services, labor unions and other agencies. As its principles become better known and experience with it evaluated, it appears likely to become an important feature in modern preventive medical practice, one in which the practicing physician will play an ever more prominent role.

In all of this interest and activity it appears that a new type of health maintenance program is emerging—a type for all adults that may take its place alongside the achievements of the past few decades in health maintenance during maternity and infancy. The point is that it is practical, that the public is beginning to understand and want it, and therefore in a democratic society will get it, and that the medical profession carries a substantial responsibility for its proper development, and that it will reduce the burden of ill health upon all our people.

Larsen's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA)—Guest at a recent party thrown by Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, asked the waiter for a "Scotch Suez."

"Come again," said the puzzled waiter.

"No water," the guest explained.

In the same category a "Nasser Martini" is one that's very dry.

OTHER NIGHT veteran congressional investigator, Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) attended the annual fashion show sponsored by the Julius Garfield store at which the latest European fashions are introduced. A model came out with a huge, billowing coat by a Rome designer, and Italian Minister Egidio Ortona turned to the senator to ask him what he thought of the number.

"Can't say that I'm carried away with it," the senator drawled, "makes me suspect that she's hiding something."

Just then the model opened the coat, revealing a gorgeous figure in a glamorous dress. Quipped McClellan: "See, I was right."

VICE PRESIDENT Nixon's mother, recently widowed, is expected to come to town for a visit with her son and family. If she feels up to it, she may stay with the Nixon children, Patricia, 10, and Julie, 8, while Mrs. N. accompanies the V.P. on part of his campaigning.

Grandma, by the way, is a special favorite of the Nixon girls. They have informed their parents that it's okay if mommy and daddy go, as long as "granny" stays with them.

AT AN EMBASSY fling, the other night a lady rushed up to a gent with a large mustache and twittered:

"I think you're wonderful. I watch you on TV every week."

"I'm sorry," but I'm not Groucho Marx," replied Washington P. Bermudez, minister counselor at the Uruguayan embassy.

A carbon copy of the TV comedian, Bermudez is used to the mistaken identity. Only difference at first glance is that he doesn't smoke cigars.

IF YOU WANT to learn how to relax, you should watch Walter Robertson in operation.

The affable, Virginia-born assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs is by far the most tranquilizing traveler to be found on the hysterical hoisting circuit.

He charms hostesses and makes conversation about the weather sound fascinating—all with complete ease and sincerity.

And when it comes time to leave, he can move through a crowd of frantic drinkers as fast as a blowtorch through ice.

A GROUP of Southern California manufacturers visiting town dropped into the office of Walter Williams, undersecretary of commerce, for a chat.

Williams greeted one of them, John Hancock, with the words, "I'm not familiar with your product, but I'd like to try it because I've found that everything made in California is excellent."

"I appreciate your interest, but I hope you don't have to use my product for a long time," Hancock replied. "You see, I make caskets."

PEOPLE'S PALATES are pretty jaded in this town what with all the international exotic dishes they're constantly exposed to. But everyone is eagerly awaiting the first series of parties which the brand-new Moroccan embassy will soon be throwing.

The ambassador and his minister, both named Benabud, have reputations as excellent hosts.

At the first reception he has, the ambassador promises to serve coscos and bastela, two famous Moroccan dishes. Bastela is a kind of chicken or pigeon pie. Coscos resembles a rice dish. The Moroccans also serve lamb in a hundred different ways.

Saugerties Former Resident Gets Scholarship

Saugerties, Sept. 21—The daughter of a former Saugerties High School faculty member was honored this week with the announcement of her award of a four year full-tuition scholarship to Pembroke, women's division of Brown University.

She is Miss Miriam E. Parsons, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William H. Parsons, now residing in Meadville, Pa.

Dr. Parsons was a member of the Science Department of Saugerties High School. He is now head of the Department of Geology at Allegheny College.

Town Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mutz of Malden on Hudson will leave for California Tuesday to visit with their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. John Spinks. Residents of Malden for 17 years, they recently sold their home to Donald McIntyre of Saugerties. On March 15, Mrs. Mutz is leaving for a visit to her native Vienna, Austria for a reunion with her sister and brother. She will return May 28 on the S. S. America to rejoin her husband in California where they will make their home.

George H. Kramer Sr., of Mt. Marion is at Benedictine Hospital for major surgery. Mr. Kramer and his son, George H. Kramer Jr., now a chef at West Point, at one time conducted the popular Mt. Marion boardinghouse, Argo Terrace.

Mrs. Harry L. Coon of West Camp has undergone major surgery at Kingston Hospital.

So They Say..

Please return my baby safe. We need her, and she needs her family. Her brother is ill and is crying for her.

—Mrs. Eleanor Ruotolo, mother of kidnapped six-week-old Cynthia Ruotolo.

I figure Helen is young enough (15) to adapt herself to the ways of a bachelor. I'm sure an older woman couldn't and I'm positive I wouldn't change.

—Casimir Orzechowski, 64, marries a former pupil in Mosinee, Wis.

My preliminary view is that we either find a way to free federal elections from private subsidy or place realistic and workable restraints and limitations on campaign contributions and expenditures.

—Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), starts investigation of campaign spending.

Questions -- Answers

Q—What does "lanai" mean? A—Lanai is a Hawaiian word meaning "patio." It is in common use on the West Coast.

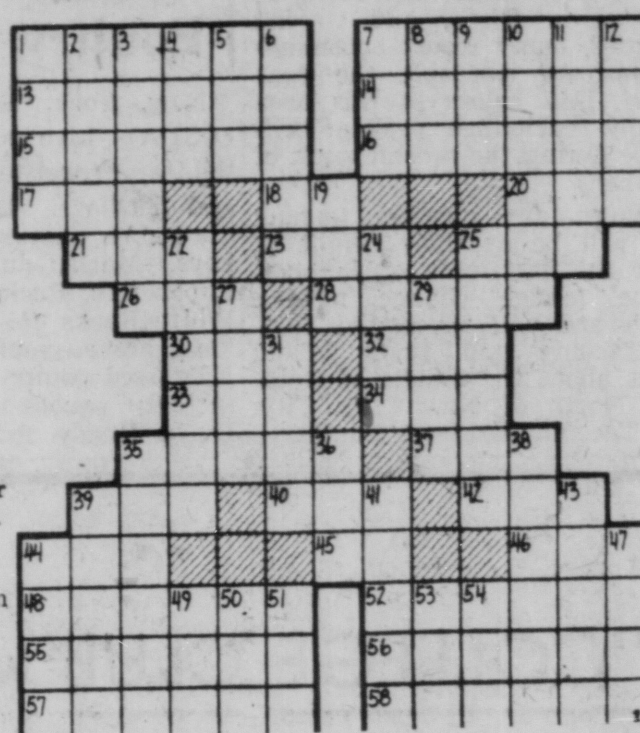

Q—What new development has been made in the packaging of eggs? A—Researchers at Cornell University have successfully removed the natural shell, and then resealed the eggs in plastic, designed to keep the eggs fresher longer with no danger of breakage.

MODENA NEWS

Modena, Sept. 21—Activities at the Modena Methodist Church last weekend centered on the return of a former pastor, the Rev. Evyn M. Adams and his family, consisting of Mrs. Joy Adams, Carol, Betty Byrd, Faith and Mrs. Adams' mother, Mrs. Young of West Virginia. After a lecture with Kodachrome slides to the Sunday school on Methodist evangelistic work in Japan, the Rev. Mr. Adams conducted the morning service. The topic of his sermon was "Trails of Faith in Japan." The scripture text was from Hebrews 11. A special offering was given by the congregation towards a project to take a station wagon back to Japan for use in pioneer evangelism.

In the afternoon an open house party was given at the Modena Church instead of the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall as previously planned. Guests viewed another picture series on a missionary's view of Japan. The committee in charge of preparations were members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Modena Methodist Church, Mrs. Emmett Hyatt, Mrs. Ralph Tice and Mrs. Leonard Coy.

The worship service Sunday will be "God's Power at Your Feet."

'THE SUE' Ideal for Suburban Or Country Living

Rooms Six
Bedrooms Three
Closets Six
Cubage 26,600 ft.
Garage 6,600 ft.
Dimensions 66'6" x 26'

Today's Home of the Week, 'The Sue,' is designed with all the special touches that make for convenience within and beauty outside.

Inspection of the floor plan will show you how the hallways separate and give privacy to every room yet makes every room easily accessible from every part of the home. The placement of the hallways also cut down traffic through the rooms which will tend to keep them cleaner and more tidy throughout the day and evening.

Living Room of Great Charm

As you step in the front door there is a vestibule with guest closet before you reach the spacious living room. The huge picture window and large fireplace in the 19' living room offer unusual decorating possibilities.

Notice that the living room has plenty of wall space to allow for easy arrangement of furniture.

Off the living room is the kitchen attractively and cleverly designed with work area in a convenient L-shape to save steps. There is an abundance of counter space and a separate dining area away from the work area of the kitchen. Two windows overlook the backyard to give plenty of natural light.

Outside the kitchen in the back entry there is an oversized broom closet for storage of all cleaning utilities.

Three Bedrooms

The floor plan shows three good size bedrooms, each with large windows for adequate ventilation. In each bedroom there is a jumbo closet making storage of out-of-season clothes no problem in this modern ranch home.

The bathroom is easily accessible to all three bedrooms and is large enough for both tub and shower stall. Entrance to the handy linen closet can be either in the bathroom or in the hallway, as the homemaker desires.

Extra Room

Notice the room labeled activities room, den, or bedroom. There are no end to the uses this room may be devoted to. Dining room, extra bedrooms, television room — the placement of this extra room makes it ideally suited for many uses and the homemaker may redecorate it periodically to suit the needs of her immediate family. It has been designed with a small picture window but any variation of window placement desired may be substituted.

There is a direct entrance from the garage into the back entry. And the fireplace wall in the garage serves as support for storage shelves where gardening tools may be placed.

Entrance to the cellar is in the back entry, out of the way, yet easy to get to. In the cellar the heater will be placed, preferably under the living room. There will also be room in the cellar for the laundry and for a gameroom, workshop, etc.

The exterior of 'The Sue,' as illustrated, is a combination of clapboard and natural stained wood. Other variations are just as effective. Shingles may be used and a stone front may be substituted if the homemaker desires.

The flower boxes add a touch of elegance that gives this modern ranch home warmth and expression.

'The Sue' has six rooms and overall dimensions are 66' 6" by 26'. It offers wonderful opportunity for outstanding landscaping on an 80' x 100' lot.

This design is approved by the VA and FHA. Complete blueprints and specifications of 'The Sue' are available with a money back guarantee if for any reason the builder decides not to proceed with building plans.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. Address requests (mentioning name of home) to Home of the Week, Inc., Dept. KF, 87 Weybosset street, Providence, R. I.

32-In. Counter Called Best

With most kitchen counters 36 inches high, American homemakers are doing at least 70 per cent of their work on surfaces too high for greatest comfort, according to the home research center of a refrigerator manufacturer.

Scientific fatigue and oxygen consumption tests have shown that a mixing and food preparation counter at 32 inches is best for most women, considering that in such operations the homemaker usually uses a long spoon or mixer which in effect is an extension of the arm.

The company's new, integrated kitchens will feature 32-inch mixing counters. The firm says that while there is no "average woman," the distance from finger tips to the floor varies only slightly, though women's heights may vary greatly.

When to Use Sizing

Glue size should not be used when new wallpaper is hung over old wallpaper. It should be used, however, when applying paper to a painted or unpainted wall.

Furnaces Should Have Certain Safety Features

If you were to go out today and buy a new heating system for your home, when it was installed it would be covered from head to toe with safety features. And this is a good thing. But many of us have heating systems which grew from hand fired jobs to automatic systems and some of these don't have much in the way of automatic devices except for the thermostat. Many have no safety devices whatsoever. This is bad.

Every piece of fuel fired heating equipment should have an item called a "stack switch" which is mounted on the stove pipe from heater to chimney. The purpose of this gimmick is to turn off the flow of fuel should it fail to ignite. After turning off the flow of fuel, the switch waits a few seconds and then tries again to get the flame burning just right. If things still don't go right after a certain interval, the switch gives up and you get no heat—you also don't get a fire pot full of oil that was delivered by the pump.

For boilers there is something called a "low water cutoff." The job this item performs is to cut off the fire should the water level in the boiler drop below a certain point. Another useful piece of equipment to use on boilers is an automatic supply valve which automatically adds water to the boiler when it is required.

Getting back to warm air furnaces there is a unit called a bonnet switch and this provides the necessary function of keeping the temperature of the air in the furnace within safe limits.

Paneling Trick

Installing any type of wall paneling in a room where the floor is uneven can be a problem. The way to get around this is to install a baseboard and make this perfectly level and then set the bottom ends of the paneling on the top of the baseboard. The crack between the bottom of the baseboard and the uneven floor can be covered with a strip of quarter-round molding.

Broom Closet Matches

Among the many ulti produced by the manufacturers of wood kitchen cabinets is a broom closet made of the same woods as wall cabinets and base units. The broom closet fits with the other units as an integral part of a wall pattern.

Personal Motif Will Give Home Warm Feeling

It's the personal touch that gives your home a cozy appearance. A motif of your very own woven through your belongings will enhance an otherwise drab abode.

Choose your design by singling out a hobby, favorite animal or just a motif you like, making it your personal stamp.

Napoleon used his "N" as well as the bee to decorate glassware, linens and personal items. It was woven into drapery and upholstery fabrics.

If you are stuck for an idea you might choose a flower, bird or even a tree peculiar to your area.

The duck proved to be an attractive design for one family's country house. They were surrounded by mallards. Ducks were stenciled on beige pongee fabric and used throughout the house at the windows.

The same little duck wound up on the furniture in the guest room, paper napkins, coasters and throw pillows. Eventually the house took its name—Red Duck Farm.

A breeder of prize dachshunds, Mrs. Jeanette Cross of Wilton, Conn., uses her motif on a pale blue station wagon, embroiders it on guest towels. Her needle work petite point pillows are also of the dachshund.

She has dachshunds cowering on her homemade Christmas cards and the frisky little dogs are always decked out regally in red velvet and ermine jackets for the occasion. The dachshund is a popular motif, used by a New York taxicab owner on all his taxicabs—it's the head of a beloved but departed friend "Wags."

If you love roses as does Dorothy Draper for instance, you might become a rose queen in your home. Stencil it on shower sheets or embroider roses on bed linens. Ivy is another popular motif. One homemaker paints it on sailcloth for cafe curtains, matches the design to ivy patterned china.

The butterfly is another favorite design. One woman not only has it embroidered on blouses and bedroom slippers as well as nightgowns, but has a powder room wallpapered in oversized butterflies in delightful colors.

Parakeets and canaries make colorful decorations. Ditto the cat. Stencil them on glasses, embroider them on pot holders. Paints that are used for glass stenciling usually have easy-to-follow directions. They may be baked in the oven to keep the design permanent.

Diet Failure

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—A navy wife whose letters told of the success of her reducing diet got back this demand from her husband serving in the Far East: "Just what are your measurements these days anyhow?"

Knowing that her husband wouldn't be home for six months, she gave an optimistic reply. Back came three tailored silk dresses—all hopelessly small for her.

Sealer Needed

Cork floor tiles, since they are porous, need a floor sealer to protect them from stains, scratches and ground-in grime.

DAR Celebrates Constitution Week

In a special release to the press in celebration of Constitution Week, observed Sept. 17-23, Mrs. Mary Spargo, director of public relations for the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, said:

"We have more individual freedom than any other people on the face of the earth. But freedom must be renewed by each generation. The freedoms we inherited under the Constitution will be ours so long as we as citizens cherish them. It is up to us to fight for truth and justice. Protect the Constitution. It protects you."

The local Wiltwyck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, joined the national organization in the celebration this week.

It was advised by the local chapter that any information regarding the Constitution may be obtained by contacting the National Society, DAR, 1776 D street, NW., Washington, D. C.

1956 Miss America, Singer Don Cherry Will Wed Tonight

Denver, Sept. 22 (AP)—Sharon Kay Ritchie, who as an 18-year-old college student became Miss America of 1956, will marry Don Cherry, 32-year-old amateur golfer and singer tonight.

Miss Ritchie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Ritchie of Grand Island, Neb., will wear the gown in which she crowned her successor, Marian Ann McKnight of Manning, S. C., earlier this month.

And as a bride, the former Colorado Women's College student, will wear her own Miss America Crown in the 7 p. m. (MST) wedding, with an illusion veil attached.

The ceremony at the Central Christian Church, will be performed by Dr. Val Wilson, president of the college she attended in 1955 before she was named Miss America.

Now 19, Miss Ritchie met Cherry, one of the country's leading amateur golfers, while making a personal appearance in his home town, Wichita Falls, Tex.

The couple plan a honeymoon at an undisclosed spot in the Rocky Mountains. Then they will drive to Dallas where Cherry, a former member of the U. S. Walker Cup team, will appear in a golf exhibition Sept. 30. They will make their home in New York city.

Dutchess Society Announces Concert Series for Season

Members of the Dutchess County Philharmonic Society are conducting their subscription campaign for the 1956-57 concert series now through Sept. 30.

At a meeting held earlier this week in Poughkeepsie, Dr. Sidney Miller of Poughkeepsie, guest speaker, Donald P. Cameron, society president and Ole Windstad of Kingston, conductor urged board members, orchestra musicians, and friends of the society to enlarge its membership in order to avoid a repeat of last season's near collapse.

In making known the soloists for the season, all of whom are in their 20's, Mr. Cameron pointed out that the series should be of particular interest to young people in the community, as well as to seasoned concert-goers. In connection with this, he announced that special family and group student rates are being initiated.

Malcolm Bilson, pianist, will open the series Nov. 14. Mr. Bilson, a senior at Bard College, is this year's audition winner. A native of Los Angeles, he has studied at the Music Academy of the West in Santa Barbara, where he won several scholarships, and has appeared with the Glendale and Pasadena Symphonies, and the Los Angeles Philharmonic.

On Feb. 13, Beverly Somach, violinist, will be guest soloist. Miss Somach made her debut in 1947 in Times Hall, at the age of 12. She has since given Town Hall and Carnegie Hall recitals, appeared with the New York Philharmonic, the Chicago Symphony and other major orchestras. Her adult debut last December in Town Hall was followed by her graduation this June from Columbia with Phi Beta Kappa honors.

Mary Dawn Judd, soprano, last year's charming audition winner, is returning this season by popular request, on April 10. Miss Judd received her training at the New England Conservatory and the Juilliard School. She has had wide experience in concert, oratorio, and opera, and again sang with the Chautauqua Opera Company this summer.

The concerts will be held at the new Poughkeepsie High School. Mrs. Clarence E. P. Crauer of Poughkeepsie is ticket chairman. Orders for subscriptions can be sent to P. O. Box 5, Poughkeepsie.

Mexican Ruling

Mexico City (AP)—The Mexican Supreme Court says "it is no crime to practice a profession as long as you do not claim to be something you are not. The opinion was given in the case of Mario del Rio, a well-known plastic surgeon. He appealed from a fine imposed by the Ministry of Health on a charge of usurpation of the profession of a medical surgeon. The court ruled in his favor, saying he had not claimed to be a licensed doctor or medical surgeon.

HELP PLAN PANEL DISCUSSION—Sen. Arthur H. Wicks and Mrs. Erma DeBoer, executive director of the Kingston YWCA, are pictured in the senator's office discussing plans for a bi-partisan panel discussion on election issues which will be held Oct. 2, 8:30 p. m. at the George Washington School. A complete list of panel speakers will be released at a later date. Public is invited to attend. (Freeman photo)

WEDDING PICTURE FOR BRIDESMAID

"Three months ago I was a bridesmaid at a friend's wedding. Up until the present time I have not received a wedding picture, which I think is the least the bride could do in appreciation of the expense I went through for her. Don't you think I am entitled to a picture and that I have a perfect right to feel hurt?"

If she is giving away any pictures, you should certainly be given one. On the other hand, such photographs are usually too expensive for any but very well-to-do brides' families to buy for the entire wedding party. Therefore, those who want a picture order it from the photographer and pay for it themselves.

Singer at Wedding

Dear Mrs. Post: I have asked a girl I know to sing at my wedding. She is not a personal friend but someone I know only casually. I would like to know if it is necessary to send her an invitation to the wedding reception. If so, must her husband also be included?

Answer: If you are paying her for singing at your wedding, it is not necessary to invite her but if you are not paying her then you certainly have to invite her and her husband.

Broken Friendship

Dear Mrs. Post: If a girl has been friends with a man for several years and then their friendship is suddenly broken, and her friends don't know and continue to ask her about him, what can she answer so that they won't keep on asking questions? It is most embarrassing.

Answer: It is best to say frankly (but briefly) "I haven't seen John for a long time," and then quickly speak of something else.

Who pays for the wedding expense, the bride or groom, or both? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, her booklet No. 501, "The Etiquette of Weddings," describes the expense and tells who pays for them. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Republican Club Sets Fashion Show Date

Cocktail dresses, furs, jewels and hats will highlight the fashion show sponsored by the Town of Ulster Republican Club, to be held at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall Wednesday, Oct. 3 at 8 p. m. Commentator for the event will be Mrs. Regina Sinsabaugh. Local merchants assisting the club are Regina's, Leon's Young Togs, Leventhal's, Schneider's, Rowe's Shoes, Kingston Luggage, June Dessler, milliner, Elston's Sport Shop, Modernity and Photo Workshop.

The latest fall styles in afternoon dresses, sport ensembles and coats will be shown. The grand finale will feature furs and cocktail dresses in preparation for the coming holiday season.

Tickets may be secured by contacting Mrs. Edgar Elliott, Sunset Park, general chairman of the show, or may be purchased at the door. Refreshments will be served immediately following the event.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Miss Lorine E. Kipp Weds Army Sergeant In Double Ring Ceremony at St. Joseph's

MR. AND MRS. FRANK HUMPHREY

(Tom Reynolds photo)

Miss Lorine E. Kipp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mack of 125 Franklin street, became the bride of Sgt. Frank R. Humphrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Humphrey of 9 East Pierpont street, Sunday, Sept. 16, 2 p. m. in St. Joseph's Church.

The Rev. James V. Keating officiated at the double ring ceremony.

For her wedding trip to New Jersey, the bride wore an aqua dress with red accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Sgt. and Mrs. Humphrey plan to reside in Mount Holly, N. J., where he is presently stationed.

Bridal Shower Given For Athena Snyder
A surprise bridal shower was given recently for Miss Athena Snyder of Hurley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Snyder at a regular meeting of the Hurley Grange of which Miss Snyder is lecturer.

Miss Snyder was seated beneath a pink and blue umbrella and all the gifts were arranged in a wishing well.

More than 35 members attended.

Refreshments were served and Miss Snyder was also presented with a four tier pink and blue wedding cake.

On Saturday, Sept. 22, Miss Snyder will become the bride of Eugene C. Groelle.

Maroons Romp Over Christian Brothers Academy, 32-18

Armstrong Scores 2 TDs To Pace Opening Win

By SAM ANZALONE
Freeman Sports Staff

Kingston High School displayed an awesome ground game as it smothered Christian Brothers Academy of Albany 32-18 in both teams football opener last night at Hawkins Stadium.

Coach Bill Burke's maroon-clad warriors buried the Capital City eleven under an avalanche of five touchdowns en route to the highly impressive win. The inter-city duel was played in ideal 40 degree temperature before an estimated crowd of 2,000. It marked the third meeting in a series which now stands two wins for KHS and a tie.

The whole story of the game can be wrapped up in the statistics which showed Kingston rolled up a fancy total of 271 yards on the ground to CBA's 69. In the air, the Brothers dominated, though piling up 146 yards to but seven for the locals, but those seven yards netted KHS's fourth TD.

Hobie Armstrong, an exciting sophomore, sparked the Maroons' offense with a pair of touchdowns; the first a nine-yard slam and the second from 14 yards out. CBA found the young man very hard to bring down as he dippy-doodled and powered his way through their line time after time for large chunks of yardage. All the pre-season ballyhoo about the 15-year-old halfback certainly stood up.

The other scores were racked up by fullback Bill Cragan, quarterback Joe White and end Marv Engle. Engle snatched White's southpaw pass in the third period with acrobatic grace for the Maroons' only completion of the night. Cragan burst 28 yards around right end White sneaked over from the one to complete the scoring.

Halted in First Quarter
Kingston was held in harass only in the first period and then it took a rash of penalties to keep it from scoring. The locals tallied twice in the second quarter, once in the third and capped the success with another pair of TDs in the final stanza.

After a scoreless first period, CBA struck first early in the second period as 200-pound fullback John Politi plunged over from the two. Two 15 yard penalties backed KHS to their two yard line where they were forced to punt out to the 13. Four plays later Politi scored. The attempt at conversion was fumbled and never left the ground.

The Maroons finally got untracked midway through the session when they recovered a Politi fumble on the CBA 40. Armstrong rushed the pigskin to the 18 and Cragan to the nine. On the third play, Armstrong whirled over to knot the count at 6-all. Cragan tried to run over the extra point but was stopped.

CBA Goes Ahead
CBA bounced back to go ahead four minutes before halftime when quarterback Waldo Lozano fired a 47 yard pass to halfback Bob Marshook. Marshook got behind the secondary and beat his pursuers to the goal line. The try for the extra point was blocked by Captain Pete Blanshan.

KHS took the kickoff and marched 55 yards to paydirt on the last play of the first half. Larry Johnson carried three times in the drive before Cragan turned right end and out-streaked a host of defenders to score. Johnson took a shot at rushing for the extra point, but was stopped cold as the half ended with the count tied at 12-12.

Stephano Intercepts
An interception of a Lozano pass by guard George Stephano set the stage for Kingston to go out on top to stay early in the third period. Stephano stole the ball on the CBA 40 and raced it like a halfback to the 13. After Cragan lost a yard, Armstrong carried his way through the center of the line for the go-ahead score. Again, KHS's try for the extra point was thwarted on a running attempt.

Engle's great catch was the clinching TD early in the final period. Kingston started the drive on its 36 late in the third period and White's pass to Engle completed the 64-yard maneuver which took eight plays. This time Cragan slammed over for the extra point to make it 25-12.

Lozano quickly rallied his team with some pin-point passing and climaxed the surge with a one-yard sneak. The CBA signal-caller hit Joe Vandelloo first and then Ike Whalen to place the ball on the nine. Marshook broke loose, to the one from whence Lozano sailed.

White's TD came seven minutes before the end, and capped a 35 yard drive. Armstrong, Bob Smith and Johnson took turns rushing the ball before White dove over. Smith notched the extra point on a run to round out the scoring.

10 1st Downs
Kingston rolled up 10 first downs to five for CBA. The Maroons were slapped with 65 yards of penalties, most of them coming in the first half when the officials were on a whistle-tooting binge. CBA was socked with only a total of 20 yards in penalties.

The Maroons played most of the game with only two reserves. Burke shuffled in guard Fran Janacek and end Dick Frodsham at different times, but didn't run in any substitutes until about the last three minutes of the game.

Blanshan, Stephano, guard Marv Shaub and tackle Gene Nagle and Lee Kias played close to 60 minutes of great ball. Nagle, a 248-pounder, lumbered about 30 yards to the end zone in the first period with a fumble, but the play was nullified because of a clipping penalty.

Need Kicker
One thing the Maroons lack badly is a place-kicker. Burke didn't have anyone available to try for the extra point from placement and was forced to gamble on runs which only paid off twice.

The Maroons next outing is Friday night at Dietz Stadium against power-laden Port Jervis High. This will mark the first DUSO League start for both eleven and the result could possibly decide the DUSO championship.

Saugerties Game Club to Decide Bird Releases

The time and place of distribution of about 200 pheasants will be decided at the regular monthly meeting of Saugerties Fish and Game Club Monday night at 8 p. m. in R. A. Snyder Fire Company rooms at Saugerties Municipal Building.

The pheasants purchased by the game club as chicks were raised by Donald Delamater on his farm in Saxton.

To Be Banded
In a recent communication received by the club, Robert G. Ohlman, district game manager of the Conservation Department's Poughkeepsie office asked permission to band some of the birds before they are released. The club notified him that such arrangements will be made.

Also on the agenda will be a report of the posting committee which undertook to post approximately 500 acres of Saugerties area farms and woodlots as a special preserve for members of the club.

The program of the meeting during refreshments will include the showing of two sound-color motion pictures on fish and game.

Pro Football Exhibition

THREE DEEP—The University of Houston has three of the best fullbacks in college football. They are, left to right, Owen Mulholland, Curley Johnson and Donnie Caraway.

Football moved into the sports scene with appropriate weather trappings, but golf refuses to die and bowling is heading for the biggest season in history.

The odds makers and man in the streets picks the Yankees to win the 1956 World Series, figuring it was a big mistake last year, and how did Johnny Podres dare be that good in the seventh game.

But one of the warmest sports arguments soon will be: How will Notre Dame do against undefeated Oklahoma? The experts, who are often wrong, and the form charts say not so good.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Jim Quinn and his Twaitskill entertainment troupe are tossing their final shindig of the season tonight, a steak roast-dance and awarding of prizes to the club doubles. . . . Perhaps neither will make it, but in our book the two most valuable players of 1956 are Jim Gilliam of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Gil MacDougald of the Yankees. It was MacDougald who cemented the leaky Yankees infield, while Gilliam has been the most consistent of Dodgers through the rugged 1956 campaign. Look for Mickey Mantle to get the American League MVP and Don Newcombe the National award. . . . The vendetta between Dave Egan, the "Old Conel" of the Boston Record and Mr. Ted Williams, author of batting championships, is everlasting. A recent item in the Boston press named Mr. T. W. as one of the best dressed men in the city, led the acerbic Mr. Egan to refer to Mr. Williams as "that noted panderer of passes." Mr. Egan appeared to be disturbed because in a recent series with Baltimore, in which the Red Sox racked up 30 RBIs, Mr. T. W. had not achieved so much as a single RBI. Mr. Egan's sledge-hammer subtlety left the impression with Back Bay readers that TW was more interested in another individual batting title than a Red Sox pennant.

Of Men and Mice:

Louise Casse, who operates the popular fishermen-skier rendezvous—the Phenicia Hotel—has returned from a European jaunt that included stops at London, Sorrento, Pompeii, Rome, Venice, Florence, Paris and Belgium. . . . Mahlon Atkinson Jr. of Catskill recently fired a hole-in-one on a par-3, 213-yard hole at the Seaview Country Club, Absecon, N. J. It was the first ace for young Atkinson, who played on the Yale varsity golf squad before he spent two years with the U. S. Army in Korea and Japan. He was playing with his father, Dr. Mahlon Atkinson, William Seeley and Neal Brandow of the Catskill Country Club. He used a 3-iron for the ace, the ball hitting 10 feet from the cup and rolling in. He posted a 71 on the championship Seaview course with the ace, an eagle and two birdies. . . . Best sports quip of the week was Joe Williams': "The Yanks couldn't have won without 37-year-old Tommy Byrne (16-5) last season, and Sal Maglie, going on 40, is performing a similar service for the Brooks this year. They've already set the youth movement in baseball back a generation and if they hook up in the Series it may be the end of Geritol, too. . . ."

The Modern Generation:

Col. Earl H. Blaik, head coach of the famed Army football team, puts the blast on American colleges for having failed in their physical fitness training programs. In a national magazine article, Blaik asserted that "for the most part in both high schools and colleges, it's the varsity, or gifted, athlete who benefits from the athletic program. Ninety per cent of the rest merely go through the motions. Many of the school and college intramural programs are merely for credit and, as such, not constructive. The players don't even work up a sweat." He noted that West Point is the "one school where participation in athletics can be, and is, forced on them (the cadets) as part of the curriculum. At West Point, he stated, the cadets not only receive well-balanced meals and continuous exercise to keep them in top physical trim, but also invariably develop a certain pride in their physique. This pride, he pointed out, remains with the cadets long after they leave the Academy.

High School Harriers Rout Middies

Port Rips Foe, 25-0

Port Jervis High unleashed its vaunted running attack to smother Nyack High, 25-0, last night in Rockland county.

Two tremendous runs sparked the Red Raiders to their success. Jim Malzahn, a DUSO League sprint champion grabbed the opening kickoff and raced 96 yards to paydirt. Later in the first quarter, Rusty DeVore stole a pass and rambled 98 yards. Vince "Barrel" Pagano, the Porters all-DUSO fullback, ripped 55 yards to score in the third period. Bill Kulkelka, a newcomer, climaxed the rout with a two-yard plunge in the same session.

Port piled up 341 yards on the ground to just 56 for the Redskins. Port was also ahead in first downs, 7-4.

Mauhs Names Two to Staff

Schenectady, Sept. 21—Appointment of two key officials of his staff was announced by Conservation Commissioner Sharon J. Mauhs at a dinner in his honor given by the New York State Conservation Council here tonight.

Dr. W. Mason Lawrence has been given a permanent appointment as Assistant Director of the Department's Division of Fish and Game, the Commissioner stated. Dr. Lawrence has served in the position on a provisional basis since 1955, when he was promoted from Chief of the Bureau of Fish. In the Civil Service examination which he passed, Dr. Lawrence, with two and a half points for veteran's credit, obtained a mark of 100.08%.

Edward W. Littlefield was appointed Assistant Director of the Division of Lands and Forests, to succeed the late Kinne Williams. The promotion is provisional, pending establishment of a Civil Service eligibility list. Mr. Littlefield has been Superintendent of Forest Management since 1946.

Top Teams Duel In Grid Openers

(By The Associated Press)
The days of the big powers chewing up the little fellows in early-season warmups long have since departed.

So today—the official opening of the 1956 college football season—finds some games scheduled that could have a definite bearing on final rankings.

On tap are, for example, Notre Dame-Southern Methodist, Georgia Tech-Kentucky, Maryland-Syracuse, North Carolina-North Carolina State, Stanford-Washington State and Southern California-Texas. UCLA got the big weekend rolling by whipping Utah 13-7 Friday night.

A crowd of 60,000 is expected in the Cotton Bowl to see if coach Terry Brennan of Notre Dame has found the answer to the depravation of eight regulars from last season.

The game will start at 9 p. m. (EST) and will be broadcast nationally by Mutual.

Berrios Scores Over Chestnut

Detroit, Sept. 22 (AP)—After hooking his way to victory over Ike Chestnut last night, Puerto Rican gamecock Miguel Berrios was ready today "for the best in the featherweight division."

Jimmy De Angelo, pilot of the 5-foot-2 warrior, said: "We are ready and willing to meet the best in the featherweight division."

Berrios is rated sixth among the 126-pounders. The split decision victory over Chestnut, a nationally-ranked Chicago 10-rounder was his 19th win in 25 starts.

Judge Jack Aspery gave Berrios the nod, 46 points to 43. Judge Al Goodman voted 48-40 for Berrios. Referee Johnny Weber, who was booed, gave the fight to Chestnut, 45-44.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING—Joe Nuxhall, Redlegs—Allowed only five hits and struck out four in 9-1 victory over Cardinals that kept Redleg pennant hopes alive.

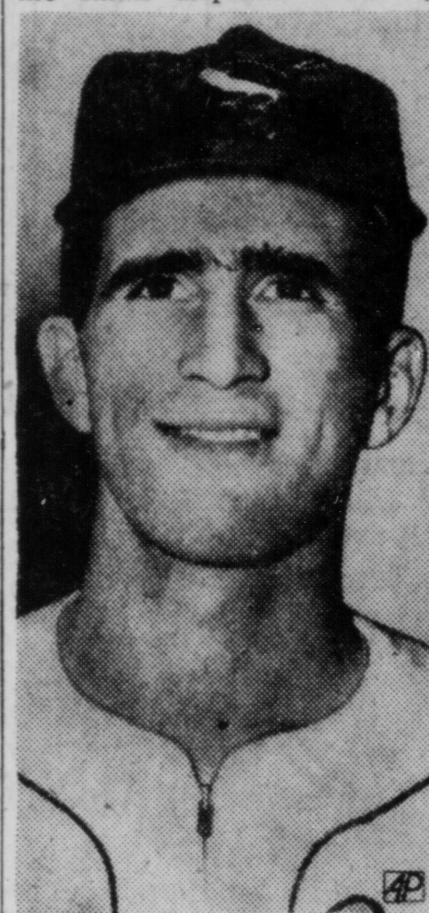

HITTING—Mickey Mantle, Yankees—gained ground on Ted Williams, 356 to 352, with three hits in five trips, one his 51st home run that gave Yankees a league record 183 for the season, in 13-7 defeat by Red Sox.

Phils Sign Youth

Philadelphia, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies have signed 18-year-old Richard Shepler, a third baseman from Harrisburg, to a 1957 contract. The Phils announced yesterday that the right hander, who batted 450 at Susquehanna High School last season, would play with their Olean, N. Y., team in the Class D Pony League.

Hunt Still Continues For Gastall

Baltimore, Sept. 22 (AP)—A submerged object struck by a fishing boat spurred the search today for Tommy Gastall and the small airplane which apparently carried him to his death Thursday evening.

Recovery yesterday of a red plastic seat cushion, definitely identified as belonging to the single-engine plane the 23-year-old major league catcher was flying, strengthened the belief that he crashed and perished.

But that was the only positive clue turned up in more than 30 hours of continuous search by coast guard vessels, airplanes, divers and volunteers.

The hunt was called off last night and resumed at daybreak today. The former Boston University three-sport star, who signed with the Baltimore Orioles in 1955 for a reported $40,000 bonus, was last seen Thursday about 6 p. m. (EDT) when he took off from Easton, Md., about 40 air miles south and east across Chesapeake Bay.

At 6:21 p. m., he radioed the control tower at Baltimore's Harbor Field that he was in trouble and "heading for the water." He wasn't able to give his position. Static and other interference prevented the operator from hearing the nature of the plane's trouble. He thought Gastall mentioned the word "fire."

Gastall, a promising big league catcher who took up flying several months ago, had a student license. He had only 20 hours of solo time and was flying a single engine ecouper which he bought three months ago.

Intra-City Duels In Valley League

The intra-city phase of the Hudson Valley bowling league schedule starts in Kingston tonight.

Tony's Pizzeria battles Jones Dairy and Forst's Formost take on GI Joe's Express. Both matches are scheduled at 8 o'clock at the Bowladrome.

Marlene Stewart Favored to Win Amateur Crown

Indianapolis, Sept. 22 (AP)—Little Marlene Stewart, who already has carried the U. S. Women's Intercollegiate Golf title to Canada this year, was favored to export the USGA Women's Amateur crown today in a 36-hole match with 17-year-old Joanne Gunderson of Kirkland, Wash.

Joanne had everything but experience in her bid to be first to combine the National Amateur and the Junior championship.

The tourney gloss of 5-foot-1 Miss Stewart, former British and perennial Canadian Women's Open champion, figured to be the difference. Both girls had displayed superb short iron games in chopping down six opponents each this week at the sprawling Meridian Hills.

Strawberry blonde Miss Gunderson, had to go to the 18th green for the first time this week in her 1 up victory yesterday over veteran Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone of Mason City, Iowa.

Miss Stewart, 22, who plays her college golf for Rollins of Florida, was a 4 and 3 semi-finals victor over 19-year-old Anne Quast of Everett, Wash., Women's Western champion.

Sunday Shopping Hit by Prelate

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman has denounced Sunday shopping and marketing.

He called for end to what he said is the "insidious and fast-growing practice of commercializing Sunday."

The Roman Catholic Prelate's views were published yesterday in the Catholic News, an unofficial weekly of the Archdiocese of New York.

Cardinal Spellman cited the third commandment to keep the Sabbath holy and added: "I pray you, each and every Catholic of the archdiocese, to refrain from any violation of the observance of Sunday and thus, by your example, help others who unwittingly or willingly may be breaking God's third commandment."

Trader Horn Captures Yonkers Feature Trot
Yonkers, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—Trader Horn, driven by Billy Houghton, captured last night's featured trot at Yonkers Raceway for his 13th victory in 21 starts this season.

The winner trotted the mile in 2:05 and reached the wire 2 lengths before Something Special, with Jimmy Cruise driving.

Lyman Hanover, handled by Cecil Champion, was third. Trader Horn was favored at $4.50.

Bucs Up to Old Tricks

Braves, Redlegs Gain in Race As Dodgers Lose to Pirates

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Is Milwaukee finally going to make the breaks pay off? Is Pittsburgh about to knock Brooklyn out of the race, just as in 1954? Can Cincinnati still make it?

That's today's baseball quiz with the Braves within two percentage points of first place Brooklyn again and the Redlegs only three lengths back in the National League's battle for survival.

The Braves, who have blown men on base to lose to Boston 13-7.

Cleveland took a two-game hold on second place over Chicago, defeating Detroit 5-1 while the White Sox lost to Kansas City 3-2 in a 10-inning nightcap after winning the two-night opener 4-2. Baltimore with Gus Triandos hitting his 20th and 21st home runs, whacked Washington 7-3.

Braves Outfit
The Braves, outfit 11 to 8, made the most of three Chicago errors, scoring the clinchers in a three-run sixth on a passed ball and a two-run misplay by shortstop Ernie Banks. That just provided a 6-0 lead, but it proved just enough as the Cubs got to Warren Spahn for Monte Irvin's 15th home run in the seventh and chased the veteran lefty with three in the eighth. Gene Conley relieved to nail Spahn's 19th victory.

Redlegs Refusing to Quit
The Redlegs, refusing to quit, made it three in a row with a 9-1 breeze over St. Louis, leaving the race like this:

	W	L	Pct.	GB	TP
Brooklyn	88	58	.603	-	8
Milwaukee	89	59	.601	-	6
Cincinnati	86	62	.581	3	6

In the other NL game, the New York Giants, with Johnny Antonelli winning his 18th, defeated Philadelphia 7-3.

In the American, Mickey Mantle's 51st home run gave New York a league record with 183 for the season, but the pennant-winning Yankees also set a major league record by leaving 20

Thirteen Enter All Star Bowling

Thirteen Kingston bowlers, including defending champion, John Ferraro, have entered the All Star match game eliminations that start Sunday, Sept. 30, at Ellenville.

Besides Ferraro, the list includes Chris Gallo, Jerry Oster, James Amendola, Buster Ferraro, Jackie Ferraro, Lottie Cashara, Joe Ruzzo, Ken Joseph, Tom Amato, Joe Ausanio and Don Sickler.

The bowlers roll six games in the first block. Dates for three other blocks will be announced later.

Browns Finally Win Exhibition

Chicago, Sept. 22 (AP)—Coach Paul Brown's radio-relay system went off the beam last night but the Cleveland Browns didn't need it in view of their 24-14 victory over the Chicago Bears in a National Football League exhibition.

Brown used the system in the first few minutes of the game for sending in plays to his quarterback but the machine broke down and the Cleveland coach went back to sending in a man after every play with instructions.

The radio relay features small transistors in the helmet of the quarterback by which he can receive instructions from the coach. Brown has a four-watt transmitter placed near the Cleveland bench and he merely talks into a microphone sending the quarterback instructions.

Post Gets Two
Wally Post, thumping five home runs in five games socked his 33rd and 34th for four Redlegs runs while Joe Nuxhall held the Cardinals to five hits.

The Yankees cracked the 182 AL record hung up by the 1936 Bombers as Mantle's near-500-foot wallop helped build a 4-0 lead. But the Red Sox then scored six in the third and tied it with three in the fourth and three in the fifth. Bob Turley lost it, with reliever George Susce the winner. Yankee catcher Yogi Berra, playing the outfield for the first time since 1948, ran his hitting streak to 18 games.

Mantle was 3-for-5, for a .352 season average in his battle with Ted Williams for the league bat title. Williams, 2-for-4, is .356, needing 24 at bats in the seven remaining games for the necessary 400.

LAKE FISHING CHANGES IN FALL

SUMMER LOCATIONS NIGHT
MIDWAY

FISH THAT MIGRATE TO FEED IN THE SHALLOWS AT NIGHT DURING SUMMER, BEGIN TO STAY IN THE SHALLOWS FOR LONGER PERIODS AS WATER BECOMES COOLER THERE. THE HIGH POINT MAY FIND FISH MAINLY IN SHALLOWS ALL DAY LONG.

AUTUMN LOCATIONS
AT THIS TIME, SURFACE AND SHALLOW-RUNNING LURES (WEEDLESS TYPES), CAST NEAR OR AMONG WEEDS, ARE HEAVILY FAVORED. AND, MIDWAY MAY BE BEST FISHING TIME.

FOLLOWING THIS PERIOD, FISH IN NORTHERN RANGES ABANDON THE SHALLOWS THAT GROW TOO COLD.

FROM NEWS-STAND DISPLAYS, IT ALREADY SEEMS LIKE ANY CANVAS OF FOOTBALL MUST BEGIN WITH TCU'S JIM SWINK!

Saugerties C of C Initiates Drive For New Members

A concerted one-day membership drive will be undertaken by the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce Tuesday according to plans announced by Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., president.

The campaign will be initiated with a membership breakfast at Candyland Restaurant at 9 a. m. for all members cooperating in the canvass.

Following the breakfast lists of prospects will be distributed and a plan of action outlined. Participants will make calls in teams of two. Each member canvassing will be responsible for four calls. When the team has completed eight calls, it will return to report. Teams returning with call backs will be responsible for making the call backs at another time.

If enough members participate and time permits calls will also be made on delinquent members. However, Mr. Reynolds said, the main concern is to contact those individuals and merchants who are prospects and due to the nature of their business should hold membership in the Chamber.

Civic Rally Open To Public Monday

A public rally sponsored by the Kingston Civic Association will be held at 8 p. m. Monday, September 24, at the municipal auditorium to discuss general municipal problems.

The newly formed association, a non-profit, non-partisan, fact-finding organization devoted to the development of Kingston, seeks to "focus the spotlight of public attention upon the increasingly serious tax problem. To attack the ever-mounting burden of taxes at its source, public expenditures. To scrutinize every dollar of public expenditure so that wasted inefficiency and duplication shall be eliminated and to make the future of Kingston more prosperous and a better place to live."

Speakers at the rally will be Attorney Robert Stapleton of Ellenville, whose subject will be "Assessments," and Edward G. O'Neill, Newburgh attorney who will speak on the topic, "Public Expenditures."

Central Would Give Up 3-Mile Line

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—The New York Central Railroad says it will file "immediately" an application for permission to abandon a three-mile line over the St. Lawrence river.

The railroad agreed yesterday to sell its link between Roosevelt, N. Y., and Cornwall, Ont., to the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. of the United States and the Seaway Authority of Canada.

The seaway agencies will remove the railroad span in preparation for construction of a highway suspension bridge at an estimated cost of six million dollars.

Sale of the railroad facility is subject to approval of the Canadian Board of Transport Commissioners and the U. S. Interstate Commerce Commission.

COVER BOY

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

One often wonders how from dreams large buildings are built. Going back to the August 28, 1902 Kingston Weekly Freeman and Journal I ran across the following: "The plans for the magnificent new sanitarium of Our Lady of Victory which is to be built at the head of Andrew street by the Sisters of St. Benedict, has been on exhibition at the office of the architect, Myron S. Teller, for examination by contractors who intend to submit bids for the work."

It is thrilling to read how they describe further: "The sanitarium will occupy a knoll at the head of Andrew street and will command one of the most magnificent views of the Catskill mountains to be obtained anywhere hereabout."

They further write: The sanitarium will consist of three large three story buildings, an administration building, a men's building and a women's building. Their buildings will be built entirely of concrete which will insure their being not only fireproof but damp proof. Even the floors will be of concrete. In connection with expanded metal, so that the only woodwork about the buildings outside of the furniture will be the doors and window sashes. The concrete floors, with expanded metal, are now being used in some of the newest and most expensive buildings in New York city with perfect results."

Said the 1902 item: "The roofs of the three buildings will also be built of concrete and expanded metal. This will be the first building along the Hudson river in which the floors and roof are built of concrete with expanded metal. The floors will be six inches in thickness. The walls above the first floor will be 14 inches thick and below that the thickness will be greater. The extreme height of the building above the ground will be about 45 feet. They left nothing to chance in those days, perhaps that is why so many old buildings are still sturdy in spite of time and weather conditions."

I guess you never know what you run into when you are appointed to a position in another country. Judge Ambler, a Salem, Ohio lawyer who was appointed in 1902 to preside over the Court of First Instance in Manila, had a strange legal problem before him and asked Washington for advice. It seems, a native brought suit before the judge, laying claim to a narrow alley, the deed calling for so many "brozorelenzas." This word means "the length of the king's arm."

It was declared to be the unit of land measurements by a royal decree from Madrid in 1841. The difference of opinions as to what might be the length of the King's arm formed the basis for a long and hotly contested suit. According to this item, the judge had the question under advisement at last reports.

The Farm, Garden and Orchard column of 1902 had one interesting item which shows man liked to prove his rise in this world from way back by riding in a fine carriage, or car as the date may be. "When a farmer indulges in a $150 surrey for his family to ride in, he should at least invest $25 more for a set of buggy harness for his team. Such a carriage drawn by a pair of heavy work horses in a plow harness makes a ludicrous combination."

Chambers School Faculty Conducts In-Service Study

An in-service study meeting of the faculty members of Chambers School was held Wednesday afternoon at the school. No classes for the pupils of the school were held during the faculty session.

Miss Laura Phillips, arithmetic consultant of Silver Burdett Company, attended the session and outlined arithmetic teaching methods and techniques.

Miss Phillips demonstrated classroom procedure and discussed the use of new textbooks to the greatest advantage. Reginald D. Russell, supervising principal, reported that the study period was most helpful and undoubtedly will do a great deal in advancing new teaching techniques in arithmetic.

Thursday afternoon all schools in Supervisory District 2 were closed to permit 65 teachers and principals to attend the District Supervisor's fall meeting at Lake Katrine School.

Grease Pot Blamed For Kitchen Fire

Firemen were called at 9:55 a. m. today for a fire at 71 Merilina avenue which was caused by a pot of grease on a kitchen range which ignited.

Deputy Chief George D. Matthews said Mrs. Carmen Massa, owner of the house, burned her left hand when she removed the pot from the range to throw it outside. She was to be treated by her physician, he reported.

There was slight damage to the kitchen caused by smudge, he said, and the kitchen cabinets were blistered.

Foursome Tourney Slated for Wiltyck

A two-ball Mixed Foursome Tournament is scheduled for the Wiltyck Country Club Sunday starting at 1 p. m.

A family night with a buffet supper will be served following the tourney for all golf and social members.

Nixon Scores Adlai Plea Ending Draft

Sioux City, Iowa, Sept. 22 (P)—Heading for Colorado Springs, Colo., for a "major economic speech," Vice President Nixon said today that leadership of the country should not be given to what he called "expedient politicians."

In a speech prepared for delivery here in the heart of the corn belt, he took indirect cognizance of a recent expression of hope by Adlai Stevenson that the draft soon could be ended and heavy military spending reduced.

False Hopes Hit

Without mentioning the Democratic presidential nominee by name, he said the United States should "not settle for the second-best leadership for expedient politicians who offer false hopes of ending the draft and restricting military research—all in the face of the global threat of communism."

President Eisenhower, he said, has proved his ability to lead the nation in time of peace and in time of war. He referred to the President as a man who has uplifted the government's "whole moral tone . . . who has led us out of one war, avoided others and now offers our best hope of remaining out of future conflicts."

Throughout the world, Nixon said, "no man is more revered and respected as a symbol of the peace and freedom we enjoy today."

Homicide, Suicide Seen In Death of Couple

New York, Sept. 22 (P)—A college student and his pregnant wife were found shot to death in their Manhattan apartment yesterday. Police described the deaths as an apparent homicide and suicide.

Police said J. Logan Jenkins III, 28, shot his wife, Geraldine, 26, and then killed himself. He was a business administration student at City College. She was a registered nurse.

Police quoted friends of the couple as saying the two had argued over having a family—she wanted a child but he objected.

They said Jenkins recently took his wife to a doctor and learned she would have a child in six months.

Talks in State

Knowland Points To Achievement In Foreign Policy

East Aurora, N. Y., Sept. 22 (P)—Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.), on a political tour through the state, has defended the administration foreign policy as "one of solid achievement" and pointed out what he called the importance of the state in the fight to win control of Congress.

The Senate Republican leader first spoke at Bryden and Ithaca in Tompkins county yesterday, and then came to this Erie county community for a rally and speech.

State Vote Vital

"With the narrow margin that now exists in Congress," he said, "the results in this state could determine which party controls the Senate and House of Representatives."

In his review of administration foreign policy he said:

"Candidate Stevenson in calling for a discontinuance of the testing of nuclear weapons misses the point. This issue is not whether the United States and the Soviet Union will agree to their termination. Agreement with the Soviet Union without adequate inspection is meaningless and could jeopardize the safety of our republic, our citizens and the maintenance of a free world of free men."

He said the Russians had violated treaties they signed with neighboring countries and had violated their UN obligations by backing the Chinese Communists in Korea.

Calls Adlai Naive

"If candidate Stevenson does not know this," he said, "he is too naive to be President of the United States and commander in chief of our armed forces."

He then asked: "Is candidate Stevenson prepared to accept a Soviet agreement to discontinue the testing of nuclear weapons without safeguards of adequate inspections and control proposed by President Eisenhower?"

Speaks in Ithaca

At Ithaca yesterday Knowland called for the election of Republican majorities in the House and Senate in November to enable "the administration to promote a better and more progressive Congress."

He supported Jacob K. Javits, GOP candidate for New York State Senator, and praised Rep. John Taber of Auburn as "one of the best men in helping balance the budget."

Monday's Chest Rally to Feature Skit and Music

A humorous skit in three scenes will be presented by the Coach House Players at the Community Chest rally at the George Washington School auditorium Monday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p. m.

The 20-minute skit will feature Rose Helen Mellert as the secretary, Richard Becker as the business man, Ed Guziak, Scott Foster and John Glennon as solicitors, and Eve Wulff as commentator.

Open to Public

The rally, which is open to the public, is co-sponsored by Local 215, American Federation of Musicians. Music by Johnny Michaels 14-piece band with Roger Shelton as vocalist, was donated through a grant from the Music Performance Trust Fund of the recording industry with the cooperation of Local 215, Kingston.

Bob Norman, new program director for WKNY, will be master of ceremonies. The radio station will broadcast live from the auditorium from 8 to 9 p. m.

Other entertainment features will include numbers by the Kings Chorus under the direction of Donald R. Romme, and by a quartet from Mid-Hudson Chapter, Society for the Preservation and Encouragement, of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America.

Surveys show that wild animals react better when shipped by airplane than domestic animals.

Plans Discussed For Construction Of 4-H Building

At the regular meeting of the Ulster County 4-H Club leaders and agents association held Thursday, Sept. 20 at 74 John street, plans were made to begin construction of the main building of the 4-H camp in the near future. Using a pole-barn type of construction it is expected that this building will be completed this fall. Construction of cabins, swimming area, and recreation fields were also considered.

Election of officers was held. Mrs. Helen Larsen, Stone Ridge, was elected president, Nathaniel Phillips, Tillson, vice president, and Mrs. Raymond Wheeler, secretary-treasurer.

4-H Achievement Night which will be held Oct. 5, project training schools, and the Annual 4-H Club Leader's Dinner were also discussed.

A special meeting was planned to be held Oct. 16, in North Flat-bush to continue work on the 4-H Club Camp.

Baby, Couple Killed

Erie, Pa., Sept. 22 (P)—A 4-month-old infant from Buffalo, N. Y., and an elderly couple from nearby Lake City were killed last night when two automobiles collided on Route 19 about 10 miles south of Erie. Dead were Deborah Kemp, the infant, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Holland of Lake City. In critical condition was Jack Wallace, 28, of (474 Jefferson avenue) Buffalo, driver of the car in which the infant and her parents were riding. The baby's parents, Louis Kemp, 19, and his wife, Freida, 16, of (240' Northland avenue) Buffalo, were reported in fair condition in an Erie Hospital.

Thought of Suicide

New York, Sept. 22 (P)—Harvey Matusow has testified he lied as a government witness in a 1952 trial of 13 Communists and later thought of suicide. The testimony came out under cross-examination yesterday at Matusow's perjury trial in Federal Court. "You have been a vicious liar, isn't that correct?" A. U. S. Atty. Thomas A. Bolan asked the nervous Matusow. "I could answer it yes, with qualifications, if it refers to parts of my life, parts of 1954 and 1955," Matusow said.

11 at Gathering Killed

Cairo, Egypt, Sept. 22 (P)—Reports reaching Cairo today said 11 persons were killed and 50 injured Thursday night when a truck drove through a big gathering observing a festival at Abu Seri village. The village is 50 miles south of Cairo. The crowd threatened to lynch the truck driver but he was rescued by police, the reports said. No other details were available.

Adlai Invades Farm Belt Area

Washington, Sept. 22 (P)—Adlai E. Stevenson flew today to the heart of the farm belt to start an 11-state campaign tour with a major speech at the National Field Days at Newton, Iowa.

The Democratic presidential nominee will make a bid for the farm vote before somewhat the same big audience that heard an informal talk yesterday by his Republican opponent, President Eisenhower.

Few on Hand

Only a small group of close followers saw Stevenson take off from National Airport at 8:38 a. m. EDT on a four-hour flight to Des Moines. He planned to drive the 25 miles to Newton.

Stevenson reportedly has drafted a detailed outline of his farm program for presentation to today's crowd at Newton (2 p. m., CST) and he also was said to be prepared to hit hard at the agricultural policies of the Eisenhower administration in the struggle between Democrats and Republicans for the important farm belt vote.

10 Youths Are Knived, Beaten After Pageant

San Francisco, Sept. 22 (P)—A rash of violent fights, several of them between whites and Negroes, erupted at yesterday's annual City High School football pageant, ending with 10 youths knived or beaten.

More than 200 police officers swarmed into Kezar Stadium on a riot call sounded after segments of the crowd of 20,000 got out of hand.

Officers said, however, the situation didn't reach riot proportions.

2 Teenagers Jailed

Police arrested three Negro teenagers, jailing two of them. Inspector Leo Osuna said that one of the Negroes had slashed five white youths with a pocket knife.

At least seven of the victims were white, Osuna said.

"The ones arrested were Negro and most, if not all, the injured ones were white," Osuna said. "But I wouldn't call it a race fight. There may have been some bad feeling between the races there but it doesn't look as if that was the cause."

Police John Engler, head of the police juvenile bureau who was attending the pageant, said:

"There was no riot. There were no organized gangs, just separate fights which kept breaking out. Some of the fellows had knives and used them."

Javits Praises Administration in SMA Word, Action

New Hartford, N. Y., Sept. 22 (P)—State Attorney General Jacob K. Javits said today the Eisenhower administration has been aiding small business "not only by word but by action."

Speaking at a rally of Oneida, Madison and Herkimer county Republicans, Javits—GOP candidate for the U. S. Senate—said in a prepared speech:

"It was the Eisenhower administration that first established a small business administration in 1953.

"The share of defense contracts allocated to small business rose from 17.1 per cent in 1952 to a high of 25.1 per cent in 1954 and, although falling off, still held at 21.8 per cent in 1955. "Recognizing that monopolies strangle small business, the justice department in the period 1953 through 1955 instituted 118 and completed 152 suits against antitrust violators."

If elected Javits said, he would work for "federal and state aid for technical assistance to small business and expanded programs for training apprentices to be skilled workers."

Await Autopsy Report

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 22 (P)—Detectives today awaited an autopsy report on the death of a 54-year-old widow who was found dead in her ransacked room yesterday. Mrs. Alice House, a welfare recipient, was found gagged and partly undressed, according to police. They said she may have surprised a burglar in her room. Dresser drawers were emptied on the floor. Part of a dress was stuffed in her mouth.

Rains Drench Taipei

Taipei, Formosa, Sept. 22 (P)—Heavy rains drenched Taipei today, as typhoon Gilda bore down on the island's south-east edge. Weather observers said the storm's present path would bring its full 138 mile-an-hour wind fury to the Taichung coastal area by early tomorrow. This afternoon the center of the typhoon was only 50 miles south-east of Hengchun on Formosa's southern tip.

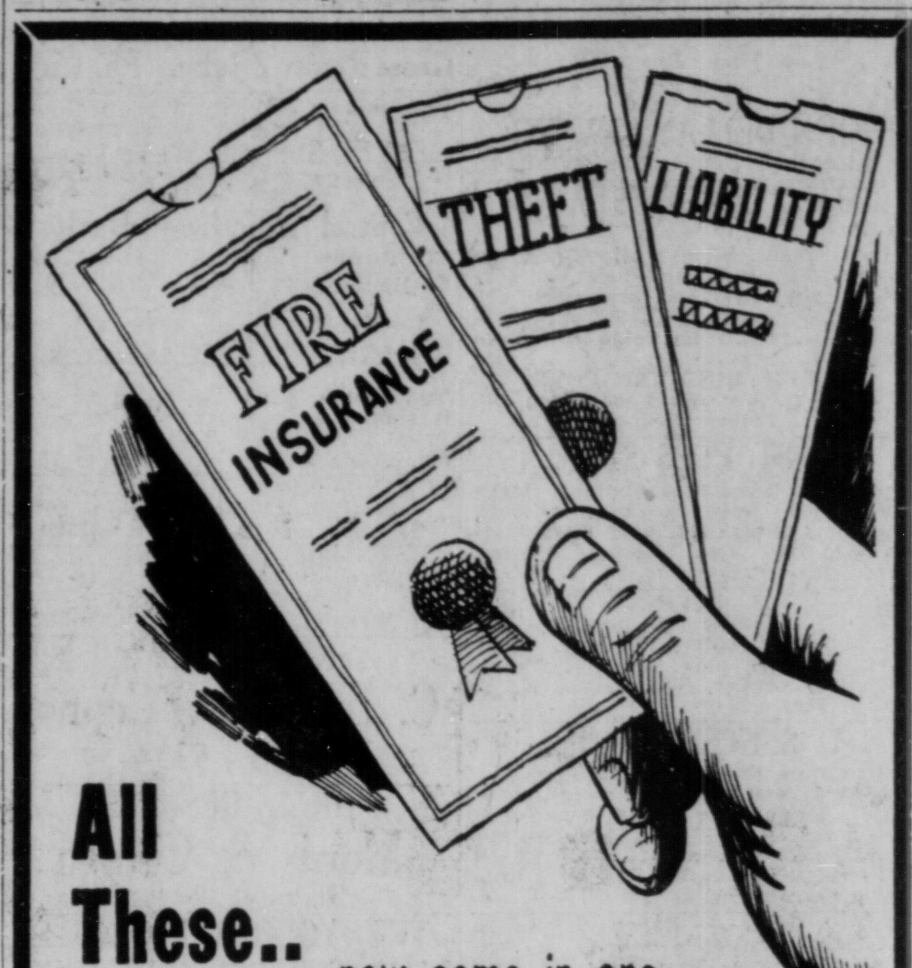

Sukarno in Prague

Vienna, Sept. 22 (P)—Indonesia's President Sukarno arrived in Prague today. The official Czech news agency said he was given "a triumphant tour through the streets of the capital to the cheers of the Czechoslovak people." Sukarno previously visited the Soviet Union, Yugoslavia and Austria.
